Laguboti, Toba

I am a 4th semester student at the Del Technology Institute majoring in D3 Information Technology and am looking for an internship. I am interested in software development and quality testing and am interested in the world of display design. With experience in project work and active involvement in organizations, I have a strong motivation to continue to develop and am always looking for opportunities to deepen my knowledge. I am known to be responsible at work and able to work both individually and in a team. My ability to socialize makes it easier for me to interact and collaborate with other people, ensuring the achievement of common goals. collaboration with other people, ensuring the achievement of common goals.
